

Parts & Accessories Bulletin

September 12, 1986

P&A #315

EAGLE IRON BATTERY WARRANTY POLICY

MOTORCYCLE BATTERY

Motorcycle batteries will be replaced without charge if found to be defective in materials or workmanship within six months from the date of purchase. This warranty is not transferable and is voided by the use of rejuvenators, improper electrolyte, neglect or abuse.

ADJUSTMENT TO CUSTOMER

Batteries proving defective within six months from date of purchase are replaced at no charge.

ADJUSTMENT TO DEALER

Batteries proving defective within six months from date of purchase but within 18 months of factory date code are credited at dealer net plus 10 percent upon receipt of battery claim form.

BATTERY STOCKING AND SELLING

All Harley-Davidson dealers should maintain a fresh stock of batteries by rotating and selling them on a "first-in, first-out" rotation basis. All batteries are dated at the factory when shipped and good stock rotation will assure fresh stock on hand at all times.

When a new parts order battery is sold, sale data must be "punched out" on the plastic warranty tag or plastic code panel on each battery. Advance the date one month when the sale date occurs after the 15th of the month.

PARTS AND ACCESSORIES DIVISION

mam

