1986-1990 XL Camshaft & Pinion Gears

In an effort to increase availability and simplify camshaft and pinion gear selection for XL models, camshaft and pinion gear manufacturing and sizing has been restructured to create a more manageable system.

The original color code system broke each color range into a single dot and double dot size. The new color code system will combine the single dot and double dot sizes into a new expanded range that is identified by color only. The black and brown color ranges have been obsoleted from the system altogether due to the low use in production. The rear intake cam gear has been limited even further to only include a color range of blue, red, and white.

We feel that this selection of camshafts and pinion gears, that are listed below, will effectively service all of our customers' needs. For further information in selecting camshafts or pinion gears, or altering fitment, contact the Technical Service Department.
